

LANDON TO GIVE HIS VIEWS ON VITAL ISSUES IN SPEECH

G.O.P. Nominee's Acceptance
Address To Be Calm Exposition of Citizen's Attitude

TO CONTAIN 3500 WORDS

Talk Will Be Without Reaction
or Radicalism, Advisors Predict

TOPEKA, July 21.—There will be no bitter criticism in Governor Alf M. Landon's speech of acceptance on Thursday night. The address will be brief, definite and calm, it was learned today from a friend who has read it.

It will express what Governor Landon conceives to be the spirit and general attitude of the average American citizen toward the governmental problems of the day. In it he will present concretely his views on five or six subjects. Others, of more complex character, he will touch on only generally, leaving detailed discussion for speeches later in the campaign.

The speech will be only 3500 words long. This is a short speech as acceptance speeches usually go, although President Roosevelt's at Philadelphia last month was only 1972 words. President Coolidge's acceptance speech in 1924 ran about 7200 words and President Wilson's ran about 7000 words each.

Governor Landon, according to his friend and unofficial spokesman, thinks the public is entitled to know exactly where he stands and what he would do if elected. He proposes to tell the public as much as he can in 3500 words Thursday night and tell the rest later in his other speeches.

The Governor has had his speech in fairly good shape for ten days or two weeks, but has changed it here and there from time to time. He has shown passages to some of his most important visitors, and may have altered it in the light of their suggestions.

The character of the speech, as it was described by his friend, corresponds to the expectations of some of his close advisers in Kansas and Missouri politics and journalism. They have been confident that he would present himself as a new leader, untied by the party's recent past, representative of a middle-of-the-road attitude which wants neither reaction nor radicalism and is willing to accept many of the objectives of the New Deal as worthy.

They have expected him to adhere

Sellersville Chief Shoots Self Through the Hand

SELLERSVILLE, July 21.—Frank Hallman, chief of police here, suffered a broken finger and powder burns last night when his .32 calibre service pistol was discharged while he was removing the cartridges. Hallman was turning the weapon over to Philip Coll, who will substitute for him the next two weeks while he is on vacation.

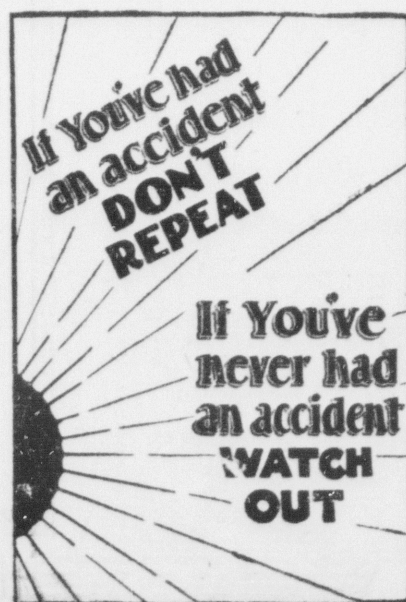

A physician treated the injured hand and Chief Hallman said he will leave for Philadelphia today with his arm in a sling to attend the convention of the Pennsylvania Police Chiefs' Association.

SURPRISED WITH PARTY

A surprise birthday party was tendered to Carlo DiMidio, Sunday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mauro, 325 Penn street, in honor of his 8th birthday anniversary. Games were followed by refreshments. Songs were sung by Carlo DiMidio, Carmen Pezzulo, Buddy and Rose Rovella and Anita Sagolla danced and sang. Others present: Lena Vattimo, Vincent Messinella, Frank Sagolla, "Jimmy" Sagolla, Rose Monica, Marie Mauro, Marie Bomertry, Louis Lattanzi, Anna Dorsey.

HAVE INFECTED KNEES

Raymond Mullen, 214 Buckley street, has an infected knee, sustained while playing baseball. William Callahan, 206 Buckley street, has an infection of the right knee, he having struck the knee while at his employment. Both are being treated at Harriman Hospital.

Hulmeville Boy Has Party On 3rd Natal Anniversary

HULMEVILLE, July 21.—On the occasion of his third birthday anniversary, "Jackie" Thorpe was tendered a party last evening by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorpe, Jr.

The little guests were: Eileen and Elaine Porter, Joan Schneider, Ferdie Reetz, Jr., "Sonny" Gardner, "Billy" Schneider, "Sonny" Reed, Richard Edwards, Hulmeville; Beverly Ellms, Lakewood, O.; Shirley Higgins, Cape May Court House, N. J.

The children enjoyed a program of games, and were served with refreshments.

NEW DATES CHOSEN FOR BIGGER, BETTER FAIR

Doylestown Fair To Be The
"Greatest Exposition Ever Staged in County"

SEPTEMBER 15 TO 19

DOYLESTOWN, July 21.—The fourteenth annual Doylestown Fair to be held this year from September 15 to 19 inclusive—new dates—will not only be "bigger and better" than ever but will be "by far the greatest exposition ever staged in Bucks county."

First of all, renewed life will be instilled into the fair set-up with the addition of a far greater interest that will be taken by the business men of Doylestown and vicinity, the active Granges and all other groups.

This interest will be asserted at a big booster meeting to be sponsored by the Rotary, Kiwanis, Optimist and Doayopay Clubs of Doylestown either the last week in July or some time during August.

At a meeting of the fair association last night in the Bucks County Administration Building, the booster meeting idea was suggested and quickly agreed upon. It will be a testimonial to Dr. H. W. Turner, of New Hope, president of the fair, and will probably be held at the Doylestown Country Club. The affair will be an informal dinner meeting of all the service clubs of Doylestown, and a number of persons vitally interested in the fair from outside districts, including representatives of Granges and other groups.

George H. Hammid, of New York City, the world's outstanding showman, and new owner of the Trenton Fair grounds, will be the speaker at the booster meeting, at which time he will endeavor to clearly show the business and professional men of this community what the Doylestown Fair actually means to every citizen.

"This was the most enthusiastic meeting the Doylestown Fair Association has ever had," declared Dr. Turner after last night's meeting.

Reports from the various department heads more than indicated that the 1936 fair will surpass all others because of increased activity in practically all departments.

This year one of the features will be the cattle show which promises to be one of the finest in the East for the Tri-County Guernsey Breeders' Association will stage an annual show in conjunction with the Doylestown Fair's regular exposition. At this show, among the celebrities to be presented will be "Mary Lillian," the grand champion Guernsey of all time, winner of all national and western shows—an undefeated animal worth thousands of dollars and owned by the Gwynnlan Farms, Gwynedd Valley.

This year's cattle show will be limited to two breeds, Guernsey and Holstein. If other breeds show an interest in the fair in future years the show will be greatly enlarged, but this year will bring out the best cattle of the two breeds in Bucks, Montgomery, Berks, Chester and Lancaster counties.

The entrance fee in the cattle show has been increased. All animals will be from accredited herds and the show itself will attract people from several states, fair officials believe.

It is likely that the swine show will

Paul Cranston, Reporter, Weds At the County Seat

DOYLESTOWN, July 21.—Paul Cranston, popular "travelling reporter" of the Evening Bulletin (Philadelphia), was wed here Friday evening, taking as his bride, Miss Helene E. Cliffe, Hillwood Lakes, Trenton, N. J.

Burgess George S. Hotchkiss performed the ceremony at his residence, 261 Maple avenue, at 7.30 o'clock, with an informal wedding dinner following at the Court Inn.

Mr. Cranston, who is well known in Bucks county as well as all of the suburban Philadelphia territory as the "travelling reporter with the mule team," is the son of W. E. Cranston, of Pasadena, Cal., a former resident of Haddonfield, N. J.

The bride, well known in Trenton, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Connard.

After a short trip by motor, Mr. and Mrs. Cranston will live at their new home, "Avon Rue," Spring Valley.

Members of the wedding party included the bridegroom's brother, E. C. Cranston, of Los Angeles, who flew East to attend the wedding; Burgess and Mrs. George S. Hotchkiss, Mr. and Mrs. A. Russell Thomas and William H. Murphy, Doylestown.

FARMERS FAVOR LANDON

Release of the first official figures of the straw vote of the Farm Journal, national periodical, indicates that a Republican trend in agricultural districts has become quite marked since the nomination of Governor Landon.

The straw vote shows that Landon is leading by 4 to 1 in the State of New York and by 2 to 1 in New Jersey.

The current poll also shows a relatively small vote for Lemke and Thomas, besides Landon's majority over Roosevelt. These Presidential polls have been carried in the Farm Journal since 1912 and beginning with 1916 this national magazine has correctly forecast the results of all elections, including the extremely close Hughes-Wilson campaign.

The 1928 poll even indicated the capture of Virginia, Florida, and Texas by the Republicans.

The figures compiled to date are as follows:

YOUTH OF 21 ALREADY VETERAN AUTO MECHANIC

Duties Carry Johnny Paul To
Some of the Fastest Race
Tracks in Country

IS VERY "GOOD SPORT"

Only twenty-one years old, yet Johnny Paul, of Morrisville, is already considered a veteran auto mechanic on some of the fastest race tracks in the country. This young man, who lives on Perry Road, has ridden with some of the best race drivers in the country, including Fred Frame, Cliff Bergere, Lloyd Vieaux, Bob Sall, and Freddy Winnal.

At the internationally famous Indianapolis 500-mile classic this year, Johnny was rewarded for a fine piece of sportsmanship when he was given a $185 combination wrist-watch-stop watch. The Morrisville youth started the grand riding with Lou Moore's car which was driven by Fred Frame. As the result of a broken crankshaft this car was forced from the race and then Johnny continued with Bergere, replacing Bergere's mechanic after 160 miles had passed. While riding with Bergere Johnny was forced to start to the pits for gas after the car had run out near one of the turns. Johnny had no more than started for the pits when a car driven by Al Miller, a Detroit driver, cracked up near the youth and instead of continuing on for the gas Johnny gave his assistance to Miller until a physician arrived, the incident costing his own car more than two laps.

But Johnny has not only witnessed accidents, he has been in them as well. He says his worst one was at the nearby Langhorne oval while riding with Freddy Winnal. Winnal's car overturned while roaring down the stretch near the stands and both Win-

Two Trentonians Hurt When Auto Overturns

Two Trenton residents were injured when their automobile turned over a few times on the highway east of Bristol last evening at about nine o'clock.

The injured: Paul Nelson, 52 Hudson street, Trenton, N. J., brush burns of both arms and back.

George Nelson, same address as above, contusions and sprain of back, laceration of scalp requiring one stitch.

Paul Nelson was the driver of the passenger car.

Both were treated at Harriman Hospital.

Constable Joseph Seader, Bristol Township, investigated the case.

Plan Midsummer Tea
At Eddington Church

EDDINGTON, July 21.—The annual midsummer tea and bazaar of the Eddington Presbyterian Church will be held July 30th, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society.

An innovation in preparation this year is the provision of a specially prepared announcement card for the benefit of those who wish to invite friends to the Tea.

BETTER QUALIFIED TEACHING FACULTY

Seventeen of the 25 Members
Have Done Additional Graduate Work

EXPECT FEW CHANGES

MORRISVILLE, July 21.—A better qualified teaching staff in the schools here is anticipated this year because of the little turnover in the faculty, according to a report issued by M. R. Reiter, supervising principal.

The faculty staff, which includes 25 members with college degrees is said to be better equipped than in the past several years. The report further indicates that of these 25 members, 17 have done additional graduate work leading to advanced degrees. Those who do not have degrees have all done other work beyond the two required years.

One of the Morrisville faculty has 35 years of experience and another has 26 years. Others with long experience records are: One with 18 years; one with 17; two with 14; two with 13; one with 12; and one with 11 years of experience. All the other faculty members have more than one year's experience with the exception of six members.

A total of 1,381 students were enrolled in the schools during the past year; of that number there were 728 boys and 653 girls. The daily attendance for the year was reported as 1,161, with the boys leading 607 to 553. Percentage attendance in all the schools was 92 and in the high school it was one higher. The elementary grades trailed with a percentage of 91.2.

The Morrisville schools will re-open on September 9th and close on June 25th, according to the school calendar which has been drafted. The following vacation days are listed: Thanksgiving, November 26 and 27; Christmas, December 24 to January 2; Easter, March 26 to 29; Fair Day, September 29; Schoolmen's Week session, March 12; and Memorial Day, May 31.

TO PLAY AT NEW HOPE

R. Joseph Martini, Bristol violinist, will assist the New Hope artist colony when it presents the annual pageant at Lindcroft, off River Road, between Center Bridge and Lumberville, Friday evening. Written and staged by C. Basil Chalk, the dance pantomime, "The Boy of the Sea" is the selection. Music is directed by Marie H. Paxson. It will be a voluntary subscription for New Hope Health Association and Trinity Hall, Solebury.

Yardley Tot Drowned; Falls Off Front Porch

YARDLEY, July 21.—Richard Marlon, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Marlon, of Edgewater avenue, this borough, was drowned Sunday afternoon when he fell into the Pennsylvania canal in front of his home.

The little boy, the youngest of eight children, had been playing on the front porch with his brothers and sisters under the watchful eye of his mother. His father was working in the backyard.

Shortly after 4 o'clock, a storm came up and Mrs. Marlon went to the rear of the house to take clothes from the line, and when she returned to the front she noticed the baby was not with the others.

Calling her husband and the older children, she began a search. A passing stranger told them he heard a splash a few moments before, and the group hastened to the side of the stream, where they saw the baby's body a short distance from the bank.

The oldest sister, Marguerite, aged 15, waded into the water and brought the unconscious form ashore.

Spencer Parks, Jr., a neighbor, who was passing in his automobile at the moment, placed the infant in the car and rushed him to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, where he was pronounced dead.

Besides his parents the child is survived by four brothers, James, who is at a National Guard camp at Pine Camp, N. Y.; Edward, Jack and Joseph, and three sisters, Marguerite, Agnes and Theresa. Mrs. Marlon is the former Edna Borden, of this place.

LOCUST PLAGUE DAMAGES ORCHARDS IN BUCKS CO.

Numerous Apple and Pear
Trees and Many Oaks
Have Been Attacked

IN LUMBERVILLE AREA

County Agent William F. Greenawalt reports that the 17-year locust plague has struck in several sections of Bucks County. Numerous apple and pear tree orchards have been considerably damaged and many oak trees have been attacked.

Mr. Greenawalt points out that the locusts, otherwise known as periodical cicada, were especially destructive in one young pear tree orchard in the northern end of the County where the trees were practically destroyed. Trees in the Lumberville section along the Delaware have also been severely damaged by the pests and other sections in the upper end have been attacked.

The burned-looking appearance of many trees is directly attributed to

Loyal Troops Advance To Meet Rebel Forces

Madrid, July 21.—Columns of loyal troops and straggling armies of radical farmers and laborers streamed in the north and south from Madrid today, to meet rebel forces of 12,000 advancing on the capital from Pamplona, and to dislodge insurgents.

In an almost simultaneous announcement, the left-wing administration proclaimed that the rightist rebels "had been completely conquered." It was officially admitted that the rebels controlled Saragossa and Valladolid provinces in the north.

Navarra province and most of the southern provinces as well as Spanish Morocco was in the hands of Revolutionists, according to reliable official reports. The government insisted that the rebellion failed.

Civil guards were dispatched from Madrid today to check the Navarra forces of four thousand troops, and eight thousand monarchist warriors.

Landon To Study Banking Law Improvement

Topeka, Kansas, July 21.—Governor Alfred M. Landon was chosen today to make a study of improved federal banking laws. This was disclosed today by Representative John R. Hollister of Cincinnati, ranking Republican of the House Banking and Currency Committee, after a lengthy conference with the Republican nominee for President. Hollister revealed that Governor Landon is deeply concerned over the Roosevelt administration's action in unloading sums of government bonds in Federal Reserve and member banks.

Governor Landon, meanwhile, reported he had completed his special acceptance speech for the Republican Presidential nomination, here, Thursday night. He was resting from all political activity pending the ceremony. His acceptance speech will strike a major keynote for the forthcoming campaign, and he will discuss the national issues in detail, while touching briefly for further reference later in the campaign. One of his advisors described the special speech as "the viewpoint of an average American citizen toward governmental problems of the day."

MacKENZIE LOSES BEARD, GAINS A PRETTY BRIDE

Ceremony Takes Place in The Reading Hospital; Injured
Racer Recovering

HONEYMOON IS PLANNED

George "Doc" Mackenzie, Eddington, holder of the 1935 dirt track auto racing championship, today parted with his beard, but had gained a pretty bride.

The 39 year old Eddington daredevil, who was injured in a smashup on the Reading fair ground track a week ago last Sunday, was married to Miss Verna T. Mather, 22-year-old artist model of Langhorne.

The ceremony, which culminated a five-year romance, was performed by the Rev. Albertus T. Brock, pastor of the Calvary Reformed Church, in the Mackenzie room at the Homeopathic Hospital, Reading, last night.

The bride was given away by her father, George C. Mather, Burgess of Langhorne. Other witnesses included her mother, Mrs. Emma Mather, two brothers, Clement, and F. M. Mather; Mrs. F. M. Mather, a sister-in-law, all of Langhorne; F. M. Mather, New York, an uncle of the bride; Lloyd Roberts, Mackenzie's racing partner, Mrs. Arthur Mackenzie, mother of the groom; and three sisters and an uncle of the groom.

Roberts, who occupies another bed in the hospital as an aftermath of the accident, sang "I Love You Truly."

EXPLOITING YOUTH

We have heard a great deal about "exploiting" in the last few years. Styles in politico-economic controversy have reached such an extreme that one cannot question the wisdom of some new semi-Fascist device, wearing a gaudy if misleading social betterment label, without inviting some such retort as: "Then you want to see big business go right ahead exploiting the worker!"

It is refreshing, therefore, to find a prominent educator using that hard-worked verb, "to exploit," in a new connection. Speaking before the National Education Association, President Robert G. Sproul of the University of California said: "The black-shirted youth of Italy marches with hearts attuned to the commands of Il Duce. The young people of Russia sing the Internationale with all the fervor of conviction. Is it reasonable to believe that American youth is thinking any more clearly? As a matter of fact, they are; and they are being mercilessly exploited, too, by the social racketeer."

And how do these social racketeers operate? Too often, Dr. Sproul asserts, "portraits of youth are conjured up not by persons who see in youth the only hope for a shattered world, but by those who plot to trade on youth's idealism." These persons do their best, he said, to persuade youth that "America is not the fair land of hope and opportunity" which it has been pictured as being.

Dr. Sproul believes that America still can give an answer to its youth which will dispel this counsel of despair. That answer "must be today, as her ideal always has been, abundant life, ordered liberty and the right to pursue happiness with some prospect of attaining it."

And how can the ideal in that answer be attained? In Dr. Sproul's opinion, through "freedom and tolerance for the individual, regard for the rights of minorities, an intelligent sense of responsibility for the common welfare, respect for law and love of peace—the ways and means of democracy."

We hope the doctor is right about the solution. But we fear that such despairing counsellors of flaming youth as Aubrey Williams of the National Youth Administration won't like Dr. Sproul's speech.

AN OATH FOR PEACE

While ominous whispers of war were going through the chancelleries of Europe and shrill cries were being uttered by militarists and nationalists of many lands, between 20,000 and 30,000 former soldiers representing 14 nations, met on the battlefield of Verdun. Most of them were Frenchmen for the French Veterans' Confederation had arranged the pilgrimage. But there also were Germans, Britons, Italians (who have avoided other international demonstrations), Yugoslavs, Czechs, Poles, Greeks, Portuguese, Belgians, Rumanians and one Dane; and there also were Austrians and, more significant of all, 500 Germans. These were the first German veterans of the World War to fraternize with former enemies on French soil.

There were no speeches. The veterans marched silently from Verdun to the Douaumont ossuary where rest thousands on thousands of Verdun's dead. There, to the accompaniment of tolling bells, minute guns and bugle calls, each veteran individually swore an oath "for the peace of the world."

The Musings of A Native Son---

A Weekly Commentary on Things of Local Interest which will appear each Tuesday in this column.

A few days ago I picked up a paper and while perusing its contents, came across these lines:

"Why do I love a kite?
It's because it's weak and frail,
Only a string or a stick or two,
Yet a kite can ride a gale."

These words brought back many happy memories of my boyhood when kite flying was a major enjoyment. In those days, Roger Brothers who operated the Bristol Mills, specialized in hand made shingles, which were manufactured in a shop along the canal basin, at the foot of Pond street hill. The shop was in charge of a kind old gentleman named Sanderson, who would allow us boys, to gather the discarded pieces of cedar used in the making of the shingles, and from these we would make the sticks for our kites.

The boys made their own kites out of three sticks, and covered them with newspapers using flour and water for paste. Each kite had a long tail made of strips of muslin tied together, the length of the tail depending upon the size of the kite. These kites were made to fly and would remain aloft for an indefinite time.

Associated with my boyhood there was one person who always stood out prominently as the greatest kite flyer I ever knew. He was Dr. Joseph T. Stradling, the well known dentist who still practices his profession in an office on Cedar street. Sometimes he would use three or four balls of the yarn string, and let the kite out so far that at times it was practically out of sight.

I came by Leedom's field a few days ago and saw a group of boys trying to fly kites. They were using the modern kites which are an absolute failure so far as real kites are concerned. I looked with pity upon the boys and wished that I had the time to make some real kites for them, and then join with them in the thrill that comes from sailing a kite high in the heavens. I would like them to feel the pull of a real kite and teach them how to send a message up the string until it reaches the kite.

The world has moved on rapidly in the past 50 years, new pleasures have taken the places of the old, but it seems to me that the present generation has been deprived of much pleasure and happiness, because kite flying has become a lost art.

The Bristol Exchange Club held a joint picnic with the North Philadelphia Exchange Club, at the Turners Country Club at Eddington, on last Thursday afternoon. During a baseball contest between teams made up of members of the two clubs, Bill Groff who was playing third base for the local team, was run into by a Philadelphia player, knocked to the ground and suffered a broken ankle. Dr. Frank Lehman who was umpiring the game quickly rushed to his assistance and bound his ankle in temporary splints after which he took him to Dr. Wagner's hospital where his ankle was placed in a cast. It will be seven weeks before he will be able to walk upon it.

Ed Stetson another local Exchange member was playing first base and in an attempt to catch a ball had the little finger of his right hand knocked out of joint. Bill Fine was hit by a pitched ball and Roy Fry, who was catching for the Bristol club, was struck in the chest by a foul ball. It does seem that a jinx is following the local Exchange club. Last summer the club arranged for three outdoor meetings and on each occasion it rained. This year apparently the jinx has changed his tactics, and although the rain did not interfere, the occasion was marked by four casualties.

I have often wondered what pleasure men found in stamp collecting. But recently I have been talking to several local men who are interested in this pastime and found that there is much more to it than I had any reason to suppose. One young man whom I have been teasing about his interest in a child's diversion, has been giving me a lot of information in return, which I cannot help but admit, is very interesting and instructive.

He told me about the Texas and Arkansas and other stamps that the government has issued recently and still others that are contemplated. Another collector told me how this young man had purchased some two cent stamps from the local post office some time ago, and noticed that one of them was different from the others. In a short time, the information came from the government, that the dies in the Bureau of Engraving had become mixed and this odd stamp was the result. Stamp collectors everywhere were eager to obtain these stamps, and the Bristol collector sold his copy for twelve dollars. I have been told that a greater variety of stamps has been issued by the present administration at Washington, than by any other administration in the history of the nation. This is one of the methods used by Postmaster General Farley to help pay the expenses of his department.

Miss Betty Verock who has been spending several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Woodward Carter, has returned to Trenton, N. J.

At that, his fears mounted. Perhaps she cared nothing for him never would. The possibility filled him with alarm. He had to see her and ascertain if there were any hope for him. He had to see her.

With that conviction, he went directly to his father.

THE RUBBER STAMP

WHEN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT took his oath of office, he said "I will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States, so help me God."

But when the Guffey Coal Bill was up, Mr. Roosevelt wrote the Congress, "I hope your Committee will not permit doubts as to constitutionality, however reasonable, to block the suggested legislation."

The subservient New Deal Congress thereupon passed the Guffey Coal Bill, and—as informed persons expected—the Supreme Court promptly held it unconstitutional.

This "rubber stamp" Congress also has given President Roosevelt "blank checks" to spend as he pleased.

TWO WEEKS WITH PAY

VACATION TIME is here. The family car is piled high with baggage and you're off for two weeks . . . to the seashore, the mountains, the lakes . . . or maybe you'll play gipsy and wander the world with a road-map.

But no matter what you do, or where you go, you'll need to stock up before you leave. There'll be many things to buy—sunburn lotion, bathing caps, a traveling bag, a new tire. There'll be many things to plan—places to see, and places to stop.

Read the advertisements first—the travel advertisements which mention hotels and comfortable places to eat and sleep. Read the advertisements of Vacation Specials—equipment that you must have if you're going to enjoy every day away.

It's surprising what a help the advertisements are. They tell you of savings . . . they post you on the newest improvements . . . they remind you of things you might have forgotten . . . and they make your two weeks with pay, pay MORE!

the onslaught of the insects. The browning of the leaves and limbs of the trees is caused by a biting process of the bark of the trees by the locusts in one-year-old wood in which are deposited their eggs.

Fruit trees, especially apple and pear, have suffered from the locusts. The eggs of the locust are laid in the months of May, June, and early July. It takes about six or seven weeks for the eggs to hatch and then they drop to the ground where they burrow in near the roots and remain there for the 13 to 17 year hibernation period. During the period of hibernation they draw the sap from the roots of the trees, but this process is not very damaging, according to the County Agent.

The recent severe heat epidemic has also had its effect on the County, and Mr. Greenwalt stated that apples have been most seriously damaged by the heat. In some instances more than 10 per cent of the crop has been scorched on the limbs.

Some sections of the County report refreshing rains, but others have received very little. The Penn Manor trucking area is extremely dry and large fields of string beans have been seriously damaged.

The tomato growers have been relieved of the aphids which earlier damaged some fields, but these pests are still prevalent in some potato fields.

Landon To Give His Views On Vital Issues In Speech

to what they regard as his own viewpoint, the viewpoint which brought him the Republican nomination. They expect him to lay particular stress on economy, finance and good housekeeping, and on detailed criticism of certain phases of the New Deal rather than on generalities about the Constitution and threats to the American system.

They expect him, in effect, to invite the support of moderate progressives or liberals who are in sympathy with much of the New Deal, but who have been troubled by its monetary and fiscal policies and handling of patronage.

Governor Landon received his last scheduled visitors until the notification ceremony. Except for his State duties, he intends to take it easy for two days. A high wind, bearing dust and a light shower of rain, cooled Topeka slightly last night. Today broke a straight run of 17 consecutive days of heat of more than 100 degrees. The thermometer rose only to 99 degrees this afternoon and showers were forecast for tonight.

The cooler weather is giving the Governor, newspapermen and residents of Topeka a chance to store up a little sleep and energy before the celebration Thursday.

Mrs. Landon, Peggy Ann Landon, the Governor's father, John Landon, and Mrs. S. E. Cobb, Mrs. Landon's mother, are scheduled to arrive here tomorrow morning from Colorado to remain until after the notification.

Governor Landon's callers this morning included Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of the late Vice President Charles Curtis, and her husband, Edward W. Gann, Washington attorney; Colonel Henry W. Anderson, a former Republican candidate for Governor of Virginia; former Governor Myers Y. Hollister, both Republicans of Ohio; and Miss Omega Sturges, of Fort Worth, a leader in the Young Republican movement of Texas.

New Dates Chosen For Bigger, Better Fair

be eliminated this year because of the few exhibitors and that a sheep show will be substituted. It has been difficult to get Bucks county hogs for a show.

The Farm Products Building will again be filled with interesting exhibits. What Granges will exhibit has not been definitely decided, but fair officials are of the opinion that no greatly increased premiums can be offered in this department unless gate receipts—which pay the premiums—are increased. If there are not enough Granges to stage farm products exhibits the fair officials have already a score of applications for the space formerly occupied by the Granges.

There will be a more attractive poultry show this year from the standpoint of the fair visitor. Exhibits will be better arranged. A pheasant show will be placed in the poultry building.

The milk goat show will again return with additional entries.

Reports from Mrs. Hillborn Darlington, Doylestown, chairman of the flower show committee, were very gratifying last night, although fair officials expressed hope that in another year the annual Doylestown Nature Club flower show and the fair flower show could be combined. This year the two shows are only two weeks apart.

Representing the Red Men of eastern Pennsylvania, a member of that order assured the fair officials that Saturday night of fair week this year, will see another thousand Red Men in uniform on the grounds, with a short parade and demonstration previous to the regularly scheduled night show. Prizes for the Red Men competition will be provided jointly by the fair association and the Red Men's state organization.

Announcement was also made last night that the Doylestown Fair Association has joined the Penn-Jersey Association of Fairs, to include Pittman, Flemington and Trenton in New Jersey, and Doylestown and Allentown in this state. This means that better horse racing will be available and all fair advertising in the future will be carried on jointly between the five fairs. Admission prices will also be uniform at all fairs. This idea, advanced by Major Allen, owner of the Flemington Fair, has been suggested for a number of years, and with its adoption, a great improvement in fairs is predicted.

As for free acts this year, Dr. Turner has lined up a very attractive bill. The presence of "Lucky Teter's Hell Drivers" on Tuesday afternoon of fair week assures patrons that the 1936 fair will be the banner exposition. A brand new Winter Garden Revue will feature the night show.

SIX BRISTOL YOUTHS VICTORIOUS IN EIGHT OF THE INTRA-CITY BOUTS FOUGHT LAST NIGHT AT ST. ANN'S ARENA

(By T. M. Jano)

Amateur boxers from Philadelphia were handed surprises last night in the St. Ann's outdoor arena by the simon pures of Bristol in the bi-monthly boxing show conducted by the St. Ann's Athletic Association. Six Bristol youths were victorious in eight of the intra-city bouts.

Vince Delia, Lenny Dever, Tally Sciarra, Harry Davis, Willie Leighton and Tony Puccio checked in with triumphs over their foes. Two localities went down to defeat, Eddie Dugan was stopped in the third session and Angelo Mocerri was beaten in a whirlwind bout with Herman Matteo.

In bouts between two different clubs of Philadelphia, Harry Graber, East Side, won the decision over George Jones, Seymour, and Clarence Jenkins, East Side, kayoed Joe Darien, Arena, in the first.

Bristol's southpaw battler, Vince Delia, gave the best exhibition of the wearers of the Purple and Gold trunks. His opponent was Morris Bracey, a top-notch performer in Philadelphia. Delia's lefts to the stomach were too much for the Arena battler and twice in the final session he dropped to the floor when hooked in the broad-chest by Delia's left. Delia carried the entire three rounds and made his best showing in the final session. He also had Bracey holding on in the second when he countered with three southpaw shots right above the trunk marks. Bracey complained to the referee but the arbiter would not listen, stating that the blows were in.

Bracey fooled the Bristol battler in the first by punching with his right after feinting with his left. The sock caught Delia and staggered him for the moment, but the localite was right back and easily carried the fight. After the bout, Bracey requested his manager to secure a return match with the resident boy.

Taking the count of nine in the second from a right hook to the jaw, Angelo (Marshall) Mocerri, St. Ann's, fled to rally enough to overcome the points compiled by his opponent, Herman Matteo, and dropped the decision. This affair was a slam-bang one from the start. Neither boy would give his foe a chance to get set and were swinging their mitts the entire three rounds. Before the final gong sounded, Mocerri had his opponent wobbly but could not put over the finishing blows.

Despite a gallant spurt by Johnny Alfonso, East Side, in the last session, Harry Davis won handily in his bout with the East Side. Alfonso with but two minutes remaining to be fought began a rally which had the Bristol colored boy looking bad for the time. Alfonso was countering with rights and lefts continually. Davis took all he had but did not wince. The St. Ann's fighter had made Alfonso look silly early in the first two cantos and easily carried the decision. Davis in the early part of the fight had Alfonso's jaw reddened from his hard right-hand socks.

The wind-up was just as expected. Two aggressive sort of fighters, Harry Graber and George Jones, gave the fans nine minutes of milling in which there was never a let-down. From the opening gong both boys were swinging their mitts, weaving, dodging, side-stepping, clinching, and doing quite a bit of infighting. Jones carried the first session and lost the last two.

A repeated left to the face by Jones helped him to the first session. Graber was trying for the colored boy's stomach but was met by a blocking right hand. Meanwhile, Graber left his mid-section open and Jones opened an attack here. However, before the round was over, Reds had found his mark and began to pummel his foe below the heart.

The second and third sessions found the red-headed East Side fighter continuing his attack to the stomach and heart. Jones kept shooting for Graber's jaw and connected quite a few times but not enough to overcome the edge amassed by the aggressive East Side fighter.

There was very little to the Clarence Jenkins, East Side, and Joseph Darien, Arena, bout. The colored boy from East Side did the leading from the start and measured his opponent off. With a left hook which landed flush on the jaw, the Arena warrior went down for the full count.

Edmund Dugan, St. Ann's, wasted all his energy in the first round of his bout with Herbert Black, Seymour. Dugan pounded his foe to his size in this round and counted frequently with his right hand. In fact, it appeared as if Black was ready for the cleaners when Dugan stopped his attack and was all winded.

After the minute's rest, Dugan came out of his corner and sent Black down with a right to the cheek. The Seymour fighter, however, came back strong and cornering the Bristol boy, pounded him with rights and lefts. This seemed to be the beginning of the end for Dugan, for from then on it was all Black. At the start of the third round, Black again found Dugan an easy target, with the result that Referee McGinn stopped the bout.

The large lead manufactured by Lenny Dever, St. Ann's, in the first two rounds of his bout with Calvin Robinson, East Side, earned him the decision, for in the last two minutes of the fight, the colored East Side had the local youth on the floor twice and was ready to deliver the knock-out blow when the gong sounded, ending the fight. Dever took the lead by an effective use of a left hook followed with an over-hand right. The Fourth Ward gladiator seemed to have plenty of power in his gloves, for in the first round he sent Robinson to the mat with a right.

After much sparring in the second, Calvin began a rushing attack, but Dever straight-jabbed him and the result was that Robinson took another trip to the canvas. He was up shortly and began exchanging punches with the resident boy in the center of the ring. In the final part of the third round, Robinson did his hardest punching and had Dever looking bad.

Willie Leighton, Rescue Squad, had to do quite a bit of punching to beat George Lyons, East Side. Lyons' best was at infighting, and it was this style of fighting which gave him the first round. Lyons would tie up the Bristol boy and with his continual hitting while his head rested on Leighton, earned the round. The second and third rounds were different stories. Leighton would not give the East Side man a chance to tie him up. He used a left hook for this purpose.

Every time Lyons would rush in to tie up the Rescue Squad fighter, he was met with a fast left hook, either to the head or body. Lyons saw plenty of leather in the second and final rounds, and on one occasion Hokey landed six blows without taking a return. It was the sixth straight victory for Leighton.

Putting everything he had into the last round enabled Tony Puccio, St. Ann's, to triumph over Tommy Delia, Older Boys' Club. Puccio was credited with the first round, while in the second, Delia evened the fight. The final stanza went to the baker-boy, and also the decision.

Puccio landed the harder blows in the bout. His counter-punching with his right was used often, and found its mark a-plenty. Delia carried the second round by upper-cutting Puccio while in-fighting. Tony landed three blows to his opponent's one in the final round. Twice in this round the Bristol boy had Delia on the ropes and brought his right up from the floor and landed solid on his foe's jaw but it could not send him down. Delia also got in a good punch in this session when coming out of a clinch in upper-cut Puccio in the body which made him bend over.

Danny Murray, Arena, took an early lead in his fight with Tally Sciarra, St. Ann's, but in the final two rounds Sciarra outboxed his opponent easily and won the decision. In the initial session, Murray was using a left jab which could not be blocked by Tally as he was attempting the same assortment of blows. In the second, however, Tally made Murray do the leading, and when his foe was off guard swung damaging blows to the jaw and body. Overhand rights staggered the Arena fighter in the final round which aided Sciarra to take the decision of the officials.

The canvas on the ring was very slippery due to the rains of yesterday and many times fighters slipped to the canvas despite the continual use of resin on the mat.

Officials were: Referee, Ed. McGinn; timer, Tom O'Hanlon; judges, Ford Lilly and Jack Johnston; physician, Joseph Levy; clerk, Frank Palermo; inspector, Joseph Brown; announcer, Patsy Moffo.

It was announced that the next show would be held in two weeks.

LANGHORNE NET MEN DEFEAT BRISTOL GROUP

Bristol's tennis stars traveled to Langhorne Saturday to meet the Quakers in their annual tennis tournament at the Country Club and were defeated 5 to 4 in an exciting set of matches. Herb Lawrence and Nelson Green were the only singles players who won from their opponents, while Wayne Warner and Hampton Morris won their doubles match.

The results of the sets were: H. Lawrence defeated Frank Blank, 6-3, 9-7; Nelson Green defeated Norman Swayne, 6-2, 6-3; R. Campbell defeated Hampton Morris, 6-3, 5-7, 7-5; Harry Riggs won over Wayne Warner, 6-1, 8-6; J. Patterson defeated Wayne Fry, 6-2, 13-11; J. Pickering won over Andrew MacArthur, 10-8, 3-6, 6-2.

In the doubles Green and Lawrence beat Blank and Swayne 7-5, 6-3, while Warner and Morris defeated Riggs and Campbell, 8-6, 7-5. Pickering and Patterson beat MacArthur and Fry, 6-2, 6-2.

Clear the Track for Locomotive Lou

By BURNLEY

Too! Too! The Iron Horse of the Diamond, Locomotive Looie Gehrig, is on his way, and nothing can stop him.

The Yankee first sacker, endurance marvel of the sport world, whose steadily mounting consecutive game mark in all probability will not be broken for generations to come, is having one of the greatest seasons of his astonishing career. Looie, who says he owes everything to his diet of pickled eels, has been defying accidents, illness, plagues and earthquakes ever since taking over the Yankee first base post from Wally Pipp, and has never missed a day's play in all those years.

The burly lad with the piano stems is smacking the sphere with savagery, ferocity and intent to kill, in these recent not-so-baity days, and it will surprise nobody, including Looie himself, if he grabs off the swatting sceptre this semester.

Herr Gehrig, who contracted a severe slump last year which lasted for almost half the season, says he has no more worries, now that he has corrected a flaw in his batting style which, he alleges, caused all the trouble in 1935.

Now, with his newly perfected stance and swing, the perennial first-sacker is belting the horsehide bullets harder than Schmeling bopped Louis.

COMEBACK LEADS TO CHAMPIONSHIP TILT

DUQUESNE, July 21—(INS)—When local fight fans speak of "the Cinderella of the prize-ring," they refer not to Jimmy Braddock, rags-to-riches world's heavyweight champ, but of little Tony Marino, local boy who has fought himself into a chance at Sixto Escobar's bantamweight crown.

The fight is scheduled to be held in New York's Dyckman Oval in August and in this town everyone can tell you that the story behind Marino's appearance against the Puerto Rican within a few weeks tops even Braddock's rise.

Tony, it happens, is the kid brother of Tommy Ryan, who came out of Duquesne about 20 years ago, and made ring history and a barrel of coin with as competent a pair of dukes as had been seen in many a year.

But that heritage did not help Tony at the start of his career. After a few cracks at fighting a couple of years ago, he quit the ring in disgust in California when he found himself getting no place. Six months ago, essaying another fling at fighting, he met an obscure opponent in New York. A haymaker sent him bouncing to the canvas for the count.

But that's where the "Cinderella" part comes in, because no one could have been lower on the success ladder than was the Duquesne boy as recent as three months ago.

A fighter out of the ring as well as in one, Tony didn't give up. He went back into training, and managed to get a bout with Lou Salica, former bantamweight king. He defeated Salica on points a couple of weeks ago, and his star was definitely on the rise.

After the Salica fight, Marino was matched with Baltazar Sangchili, of Spain, European bantam champion, and by knocking the Spaniard kicking in 14 rounds earned the crack at Escobar's crown.

He is 24, looks like his brother Tommy in his ring style, and is, according to oldsters, destined to be every bit as famous as Tommy.

HIBERNIANS BATTLE ST. ANN'S TO TIE; 4-4

In one of the best fielding games seen here this season, the St. Ann's A. A. nine and the Hibernians battled to a 4-4 deadlock last night on Leedom's field before a large crowd. A run in the seventh frame enabled the Saints to tie the score.

Four double-plays were made in the seven inning fray, each side had two. Stops that seemed impossible were made to look easy and not a stolen base was recorded although several were attempted. St. Ann's had twelve assists, one more than the Hibs. The Hibs erred twice to the St. Ann's team's once.

"Charlie" Whyno did the tossing for the Wood Streeters and had one bad inning, the third. In this canto a triple by Joie Roe scored two runs and was responsible for a third as the base-runner scored on Eddie Roe's fly. This put the Hibs in the lead until the last inning. Dave Ennis was Whyno's opponent. He had a very wobbly start but settled down and after allowing three runs in the first blanked St. Ann's until the tying run was registered. Ennis whiffed nine batters, six coming in the first three frames.

With St. Ann's behind, 4-3, in the last half of the seventh, Eddie Gaffney opened with a single to left and continued to second when Eastlack allowed the ball to get away from him for an error. Johnny Dick batted for Di-Tanna and tapped in front of the plate to be tossed out by Ennis, Gaffney going to third. Whyno hit to Zeffries whose throw to the plate was too late to get Gaffney. Whyno stole second, and went to third on Sagolla's grounder to Thompson. Stallone had a chance to be the hero of the match but fanned.

Mike DeRisi continued his heavy hitting for the Saints for a triple and two singles, one-half of the St. Ann's hits. Bill Thompson, after whiffing on his first appearance at the platter, smacked out two singles.

Man Fatally Shot in Car at Abington

Abington, July 21—Harry Weidmann, 37, of Philadelphia, was shot to death in an automobile today, during an argument which broke out with four men and a woman, in a tap room, police said.

The shooting occurred as the car raced along the Bethlehem Pike near Flourtown. Weidmann was struck in the body by bullets from a high calibre revolver. The gunman who fled with other members of the party was only known as "Otto" according to police of Abington township.

BACHARACH GIANTS TO APPEAR AGAINST SEEDS

At the Landreth Ball Park, tomorrow at 6:30 p. m., Landreth Seeds will have as their opponents the Bacharach Giants, a club well-known in Bristol and one of the fastest colored clubs now playing ball.

A few weeks ago the Bacharach Giants defeated the "Farmers" and the locals will be out Wednesday evening for revenge.

If the evening is fair, no doubt a large crowd will be on hand to watch the Bacharachs not only play ball but to put on their comedy stunt.

Landreths will have a very strong line-up and expect to win the ball game as the Seedsmen are playing top notch ball at the present time.

The Giants have won a large percentage of their tilts this year, and are out to keep up their fine performance. They are a strong drawing card, the fans eagerly watching the excellent type of game they produce.

It is expected that all seats at the Landreth ball park will be taken tomorrow evening for this sports event.

Youth of 21 Already Veteran Auto Mechanic

Paul being injured, Paul being tossed in mid-air in front of the stands and receiving a sprained shoulder and dislocated collar bone as a result of the fall.

Frame, winner of the Indianapolis classic in 1932, had Johnny as his mechanic in the 1935 National championships at Syracuse, N. Y. At Altoona, Fowler relieved Frame and the Morrisville youth continued the race riding with Fowler.

Paul attended the Morrisville school and left after passing through Sophomore year to be a mechanic for Vieaus, of Beverly Hills, Cal. Vieaus was later killed in a race in Georgia. The following year Paul went to Indianapolis with Sall, a Paterson, N. J., boy and in that race Sall drove one of the ten cars entered by Henry Ford.

Paul hopes to ride with George Barringer, a Texas driver, who rides mostly in the Middle West. Johnny is also interested in midwest racing and is looking forward to the opportunity of driving one of these little speedsters. But Johnny says the track at Indianapolis is the thriller. "You just stick to it all the way around even though it is so smooth," he said.
